Fall Conference 2018 Post-Conference Email: Leadership to Create the Optimal Learning Environment

Despite the interruption the hotel fire caused at AASB's fall conference Sunday, you will still receive the full 6 hours of training credit for attending. To make sure you get the training content that would have been provided Sunday, we have two additional resources for you: An interview with Dr. Andy Parker, whose session was interrupted, and an exclusive, free webinar focused on the Newton County, Georgia, poverty project.

You may view Dr. Parker's interview, Exploring Bias, at <https://youtu.be/ZguYypU14NA> [u3352875.ct.sendgrid.net].

The webinar will be scheduled later this month. During that session, Newton County's superintendent and board president will share how their governance team hired poverty coaches and aggressively worked to involve the community in a countywide effort to address poverty and related issues. We will share more details about how you can participate in the webinar soon.

In the meantime, keep scrolling to link to a variety of resources from the content shared during the fall conference.

BOARD MEMBER TAKEAWAYS

AASB's conferences and workshops are designed in part to raise board members' awareness and knowledge levels on key topics. We hope you will share the information you think is relevant to your system with your fellow board members and the superintendent – not as a to-do list, but as a conversation starter for your team. We hope that the ideas we introduce you to further the conversations you're having at the board table and influence your thinking on all aspects of your governance team's vision.
